

Matthias Winkler, Dipl.-Ing., AIA

Principal

Matthias has been involved in the design, production and construction of high-end resorts, hotels, clubhouses, villas and estates for almost two decades. Educated as an architect in Europe and the United States he was exposed to different cultures and languages from the very start of his career.

His passion for design has taken him from his native Germany to high-end hospitality and residential design firms in Seattle, Washington, and on several of the major Hawaiian Islands. He had been practicing with the international hospitality design firm WATG for three years before joining FSC Architects in 2010. In addition to his comprehensive knowledge of hospitality design, he has extensive expertise in high-end luxury residential design and construction.

Matthias has been working on projects in multiple climates around the world from snowy Changbaishan and the deserts of Dubai to tropical Sanya.

Along with a well-balanced eye for design and intricate operational solutions, Matthias is a strong advocate of innovative ideas and challenging the status quo for better results. A modern thinker, he is always looking at ways in improving communication and efficiency. As he thinks: the key in design work is teamwork.
